ASIATICS NOT BARRED BY BILL

ALL SUCH AMENDMENTS TO IMMIGRATION MEASURE ARE DEFEATED IN HOUSE

VETO BY WILSON FEARED

Believed He Would Not Sign Any Measure Affecting Admission of Chinese or Japanese

By Associated Press

Washington Feb 3—All Asiatic exclusion amendments to the immigration bill were defeated today in the House [illegible] amendment was beaten 10[illegible] to 10[illegible] four after overwhelming defeat of similar amendment by Representative Baker

The Hayes Lemoot amendment would bar Asiatics and Africans except those whose entry to the United States has been provided for by treaties or passport arrangements which now exist or may later be entered into Its supports contended it did not disturb or affect the status of Chinese or Japanese immigration

In its original terms the Hayes amendment would have excluded all Asiatics Chairman Burnett of the immigration committee and his followers desired to leave the immigration bill entirely free of Asiatic exclusion features contending that exclusion features contending that exclusion features contending that

NAVY QUESTION FACES ENGLAND

CONTROVERSY IS BEING WAGED OVER PROBLEM OF NATIONAL ARMAMENT

ESTIMATES ARE OPPOSED

People Urged of Importance of Maintaining Navy at Present Ratio of Increase

By Associated Press.

London, Feb. 3.—Both sides to the controversy over national armaments are planning platform campaigns for the exposition of their views. The National Peace Council which includes many liberal members of Parliament, and is opposing any increase in the naval estimates, has already held several meetings. A great demonstration organized by the Committee for the Reduction of Armaments is planned at Queen's Hall on February 3, and from then on the "little navyites" will hold meetings through the country.

This is not the first time that liberal economists have threatened revolt against the Government over the naval estimates. In 1909 a committee consisting of 144 liberal and labor members of Parliament started an agitation against the estimates of that year. On that occasion Premier Asquith took a firm stand and the agitation soon died down. This committee has been revived in the Reduction of Armaments Committee, which already claims a membership of 100 liberal members of Parliament. The movement has been given an impetus from the declaration of Lloyd George, against the heavy burden of armaments.

The other side, however, is not idle. The Navy League, a permanent and influential organization, although liberals have sometimes complained of political bias on its part, has issued an appeal to the Mayors throughout Great Britain to assist them in the organization of meetings to place the gravity of the problem of naval defense before the people. A manifesto entitled "The Conspiracy Against National Safety" has been issued and speakers have been appointed to go through the country urging electors to impres upon their members the necessity of maintaining the navy at its present ratio of increase.

FAMOUS NOVEL DRAMATIZED TO BE SHOWN HERE SATURDAY

As a rule the dramatization of books are disappointing, the book furnishing only the idea, making it necessary to take liberties that cause the characters to lose their identity when presented in dramatic form. True there are a few notable exceptions, but the cases are rare and rarer still are the books that find favor when taken from plays. The one possible exception is "The Virginian." The play being first produced shortly after the first edition of the book was sold. Book and play alike possess a romantic charm and literary grace that has placed them at the top of unqualified success. The play which has seldom been seen outside the larger cities, is acknowledged to have no counterpart in its class, while the book is sought after and read with the same enthusiasm as when first introduced. Jones and Crane's magnificent production of "The Virginian" will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre on Feb. 7 and that it will prove one of the really enjoyable offerings of the current season goes without saying. No description could adequately tell in advance all the details that go to make "The Virginian" a play that takes high rank among the worthy plays that endure. That it amply deserves the fine patronage accorded it is evident from the fact that it attracts theatre-goers time and time again. A play that bears successful repetition must possess merit and true artistic worth. Jonen and Crane produce this famous story in a way that is the most pretentious yet put forth by this firm of producers.

FEDERAL CLUBS MAY TRAIN HERE

KANSAS CITY TEAM WRITES FOR INFORMATION REGARDING FACILITIES.

SPRING CAMP NEAR LAKE

Believed This City Can Secure One and Possibly Two of Teams in the New League.

The Kansas City team in the new Federal League may come to Wichita Falls to train and another team in the same league may be induced to come here. Acting Secretary Thomas of the Chamber of Commerce who has been sending out telegrams inviting teams to come here for their spring training Tuesday morning received the following from Kansas City:

"Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls, Texas. Have been considering Shreveport and other places but think favorably of your city as a training point for our Federal league team. If you will furnish full particulars including information as to accommodations, rates, etc., will investigate and probably can induce another of our teams to train there also.

"C. C. MADISON."

Will Furnish Information

Upon receipt of the foregoing telegram Mr. Thomas began to collect the information desired which he is sending to Kansas City this afternoon together with photographs of the ball park at the lake, the hotel and club house, scenes of the lake itself and other views.

No city anywhere has better accommodations for training quarters than Wichita Falls. At the lake far removed from the city to permit of unmolested work if desired, yet with first class car service, the hotel and the cottages adjoining offer first-class accommodations for the players. The lake offers boating and fishing, exercise and recreation to keep the players in excellent physical trim.

F. P. St. Clair, manager of the lake grounds has quoted a very favorable rate for the board of the men.

In event two teams train here the city ball park would allow both teams to practice apart from each other.

GOT ANGRY AT HIS WIFE, CUT CLOTHES INTO BITS

Negro Takes Unusual Way of Showing His Wrath and Is Arrested For Malicious Mischief.

A trunk full of mutilated clothing is an exhibit held at the sheriff's office to be used in the prosecution of Arthur Williams, a negro better known as "Blue." Williams' wife has filed a complaint against him charging malicious mischief and aggravated asasult. The alleged assault took place last Wednesday. "Blue" is said to have run his wife out of the house in fear of her life and when she had gone opened her trunk containing over a hundred dollars worth of clothing and cut them into pieces. Not a single garment was left so that it could be worn. Even shoes were cut into slithers.

Officers had been on the lookout for "Blue" since and Monday he was located by the sheriff's department and arrested.

CONCRETE ADOPTED FOR TENTH STREET PAVING

Council Awards Contract For Block Between Denver and Van Buren at $1.10 Per Yard.

Concrete is to be used for the first time for street paving in Wichita Falls on the block from Denver to Van Buren streets on Tenth street. At a special meeting of the city council Monday afternoon the contract for this paving was awarded to I. H. Roberts whose bid was $1.10 per square yard. The city will bring the street to the proper grade.

The paving of this block will leave a space of several blocks unpaved. It is believed the property owners in these blocks will now get busy and sign up for the paving.

At Monday's special session of the council the purchase of hunker suits for members of the fire department was referred to the committee on public safety.

REAL, HUMAN CHARACTERS IN "SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS."

Occasionally some play strikes a note that rings out clear and true in the midst of the commonplace and impresses its auditor with the thought that it was written not for gain, not for past time, but because some man had something to say to other men and he took this means of expression.

"The Shepherd of the Hills," Harold Bell Wright's dramatization of his novel of the same name, is this kind of a play. Mr. Wright had felt within his soul the peace and beauty of the hills and he wished to set down their meaning before him. He made a play that in plot is compelling, one that never fails in sincerity. The people who move in it are so human that the auditor will pick them out for like and dislike as if he really knows them.

There is the the shenherd, the man who came to the hills to learn and remained to teach; Old Matt, who cherished the memory of a wrong that could never be righted; Young Matt, a Hercules of the hills country whose strength of heart and soul equalled the strength of his body; Sammy Lane, bright and buoyant with the youth of the hill country, and the other quaint characters that enliven the play with humor.

The scene of the play is in the high hills of the Ozark Mountains. The mists of the valleys, the glories of the sunsets, the magnificent vistas from the summits have been brought out by the wonderful ingenuity of the scenic artist and electrician's craft. It is the spirit of the land that Mr. Wright has caught that makes the play one that is unique and one that will stand in a field of its own.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre Friday night. The enormous popularity of the Harold Bell Wright novels indicates that the engagement of this his first play will prove a great popular success.

LOSS OF COW FOLLOWED BY COMPLAINT FOR THEFT.

A complaint charging theft of a cow has been filed against Oscar Lovingood. A farmer had brought the cow into town and had left her tied at the outskirts of the city, while he went up town. Returning to the place where he had tied the cow he found her missing. Later she was found in a wagon yard where she had been sold for forty dollars in cash. The first purchaser had sold her at an advance of that figure. Later Lovingood was arrested and Tuesday a complaint was filed against him charging theft. A preliminary hearing was in progress before Justice Howard Tuesday afternoon.

The good old times we used to know
Are passing swift away
Could eke out graft and easy go
With politicians high and low
There's little chance today

The people trust us not at all
Though we elected he
To handle business great and small
They watch like sentries on a wall
To keep an eye on me

I dare not trust my truest friend
To help me graft my share,
Lest on my head the law descend
And in the pen my days shall end
I can't endure the scare

I tell you things are getting bad
We've got to turn about
And counteract this watching fad—
Regain once more the grip we had
Or suffer total rout

RETURN OF "THE TRAFFIC" HERE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

This remarkable play by Rachael Marshall is so truthfully astonishing as to have evoked both the wonder and the approval of those who think that the naked truth is what the people want from the theatre as well as from the newspapers and the churches The Traffic is such a play and it is presented with every attention to fine and perfect setting costuming and acting It is the most glaring arraignment of social and industrial conditions ever acted and it is at the same time a play of intense and compelling human interest This play demonstrates that justice and not charity is what women want if they are to be saved from the lust and traffic of the underworld Stripped of all pretense and innocent of any evil or calcity— The Traffic shows where and how the man higher up the politician the police official and the grafter work their share in the causes and influence that make human commerce a fact in the life of every city

UNION LABEL

Wichita Falls, Texas, Feb. 3, 1914

It may do no good to make the sag section, but the Times is certainly of the opinion that the city government should have one competent man in its employ whose special duty it should be to test all water, electric and gas meters in the city. There is substantial evidence that this is one of the needs of this city. It is possible the new charter does not give this city that much authority, and in that event it should by all means be amended

Gen. Villa, it is said, can neither read nor write, but he is showing some unmistakable signs of having good hard sense. In the first place he has given it out that he has no desire whatever to be president of Mexico, and in the second place, he has provided himself with a book treating on modern warefare, supplied him at his request, by an American army official, and now says that no more federal soldiers captured by him will be stood up in a row and shot down like dogs. Villa is learning fast.

Chairman A. W. Walyker of Dallas has appointed W. J. Bullock of this city as one of a committee from each senatorial district to frame a platform demand for constitutional prohibition to be submitted at the democratic primary election this year. This committee of thirty-one members will also have active charge in securing petitions asking that submission be placed on the official ballot. The committee will hold its first conference at the state mass meeting at Fort Worth February 21st. It is quite an honor to represent this senatorial district on a committee of this character. Mr. Bullock has accepted the appointment.

The Times is in receipt of the following letter which comes to it through an advertising agency that is doing some business with it, and for nerve and gall, or whatever one is of mind to call it, it takes the cake. It starts off this way: "Referring to our contract made this day for advertising space in the Wichita Falls Times, beg to say that this contract is given for display space to secure co-operation of the paper in its news columns. * * * further appropriations for advertising to this paper will solely depend upon the amount of co-operation we get in the news columns." Before the Times had ever secured an inch of line of advertising for this concern, or had any idea that it would ever receive any, it had boosted and given considerable space in its news columns to it for the reason that the Times thought and yet believes that great good will come to the state through the results of this enterprise, but the Times is not one of those kind of newspapers that has to be bribed by an advertising contract to do what it conceives to be its whole duty. In truth, the Times does not appreciate such letters, and now wishes that it had never signed a contract to accept any of the advertising. It has always managed to pull through without being forced to sell advertising space along those lines. Its rates are as reasonable as they can possibly be made. As a rule, its patrons know this, and that being the case the Times has never yet gone hungry for advertising. This letter is signed by the secretary of a very worthy organization, and the Times hopes he will see it and never write another like it to a newspaper that has any respect for itself.

"A PATRIOTIC CREED"

The Chase National Bank of New York has sent out the following "patriotic creed," which is a good creed for anybody to adopt: We believe in our country—the United States of America. We believe in her constitutions, her laws, her institutions, and the principles for which she stands. We believe in her vast resources, her great possibilities—yes, more, her wonderful certainties. We believe in the American people, their genius, their brain, and their brawn. We believe in their honesty, their integrity and dependability. We believe that nothing can stand in the way of their commercial advancement and prosperity.

We believe what are termed "times of business depression" are but periods of preparation for greater and more pronounced commercial successes.

And we believe that in our country are being worked out great problems, the solution of which will be for the benefit of all mankind.

Such expressions of confidence as this, coming in many instances directly from great financial institutions which, only a few months ago, were anything but enthusiastic over the prospect of the passage of the new currency reform bill is encouraging indeed. Apparently, they are just coming to their good senses and have concluded that instead of bossing things financially for the government, will now submit gracefully to be bossed. That is the way the framers of the constitution intended things should be conducted—in the interest of and for the great masses of the people who compose and support the government, and not for the financial benefit of a comparatively few individuals who have managed to accumulate large fortunes, much of it by the aid of the government to the detriment of a great majority of the people. The Chase National Bank is going to be good, and there is not now the slightest indication that it and kindred financial institutions are going to do anything that will tend to any way embarrass the present Democratic administration.

HEARN HOTEL OPENING TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Peter Radford Among Speakers At Meeting Here—Delegates Arriving This Afternoon

The management of the Hearn hotel and cafe announce the opening of the new house for tomorrow evening from four to seven o'clock, to which the public is invited. Katz orchestra will furnish music for the occasion and flowers and cigars will be provided for the visitors.

The new Hearn is one of the handsomest hotels in North Texas, and in point of number of rooms is the largest house in the city, having ninety guest rooms, forty of which have private bath.

The house is finished throughout in mahogany, which makes a rich warm setting for the walnut and Vermis Martin furniture. The office is on the Eighth street side of the building, with a handsome lobby, fitted with tiled floor and marble stairs, on the ground floor. Immediately above the office, in a half story is a large writing room and music room, while at the winding of the stairway on the second floor is a handsome reception room and ladies parlor. On each of the guest room floors, besides the private baths, there are public baths and lavatories. The rooms are fitted with telephones, with a private switchboard in the office. The office is also equipped with long distance booths.

The furniture throughout the house is of the handsomest and most durable quality possible to purchase.

The house will be under the personal management of H. F. Cauble, who will be assisted by E. W. Settle as chief clerk.

The cafe opens off from the hotel office on the east side. It is also fitted up in marble and mahogany, with tile floor. It is to be operated by Simmons Brothers, owners of the City Cafe and will be served from the joint kitchen. The rear end of the two restaurants opening into the kitchen.

One Benefit of the Tariff

The new tariff has the good effect of reducing the cost of syrup—one step at least in the lowering of the high cost of living. There are a good many ways of using syrup, and there is a place for it on every table at any meal. Breakfast will be tastier and more inviting with plenty of hot biscuits, griddle cakes or muffins with syrup. Syrup can be used on a good many desserts at dinner, and for supper with waffles or hot bread. Syrup is a fine food. It is good for old or young—especially children who continually crave sweets.

The one best syrup is Velva, in the cans with the red or green labels (Green Label Velva is pure country juice of the cane modified in flavor by corn syrup—both are delicious and full of fine flavor. Velva is lower in cost now than ever, while other foods are either higher in price or unchanged. (Adv.)

Hand—Holding Couple Draws Laughter From Down Town Crowd

It has been truly said that "all the world loves a lover" and it is equally true that all the world loves a laugh Two of the aforementioned articles (lovers) were calmly strolling down on the busy streets of this city this noon, hand in hand and casting adoring glances on each other. The proceedings awoke someone's sense of humor and he passed the good word along People came to the store doors to gaze and a laugh ensued. The couple, noticing the laughter finally come to the conclusion that perhaps hand holding on the street wasn't practiced in best circles here and regretfully discontinued the practice But it was worth the money while it lasted.

"THE HOUSE OF MYSTERY" AT THE WICHITA TOMORROW.

"The House of Mystery," another film of the natural color series being shown at the Wichita Theatre, is tomorrow's movie attraction at that playhouse. It is a detective story and would be of decided attractiveness even without the natural color feature. It tells the story of a banker who is the victim of a series of mysterious thefts. He calls in a noted detective to unravel the mystery and it is discovered eventually, after a series of blood-stirring events, that the banker's daughter-in-law had been held by the mysterious band, the head of which had impersonated her and systematically robbed the financier.

PRESIDENT NOT BACKING SULLIVAN FOR SENATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—Reports from Illinois that the White House was backing the senatorial candidacy of Roger Sullivan met today with a declaration from President Wilson that he had not interferred in any primary contests and did not intend to do so.

The President feels that in his home state of New Jersey when he was consulted by the leaders it was his duty to give them his views, but outside of that he will take no part in any of the primary contests for the Senate.

No Decided Novelties To Be Noted In the Styles for Spring

New York, Feb. 3.—The news from the center of fashion is not so alarming as reported a few weeks ago. Then it was said that February would bring such a change in the method of dressing that the styles we have been laboring for, changing our figures and point of view for, would be completely out of date.

February is not quite here, but authorities reassure us and say that skirts will be as narrow as ever, draping will continue and tunics and panniers are with us for some time to come.

The bustle will probably prove more popular than it has so far. It is simply a bow or bit of drapery in the back, so arranged that there is a decided bulge below the wastline.

The spring fabrics are being shown in all the large stores. The array of cotton materials in a ratine weave seem to be heavy sellers. It is not to be wondered at. The plaids and checks and stripes which appear in these materials are most striking and beautiful.

There seems to be no doubt that Scotch plaid will continue to be worn this season. During the winter it was very popular, worn as tunics, girdles, cuffs, collars and skirts below coats of plain material in the dominating color of the plaid.

In an exclusive Fifth avenue shop I saw a chic little frock for a young girl. It was displayed especially for the benefit of our friends and neighbors who shun the cold and migrate to the sunny southland until Old Winter has passed by on his ceaseless journey.

This dress, which is shown in the first illustration, has a waist of ecru batiste made surplice fashion. A wide frill of lace follows the line of the surplice opening around the neck. At the back of the neck it is of plaid cotton eponge, having red as a predominant color, with a little black and white to tone it. The skirt is made with pleats on each hip, giving the up to date peg top appearance. A wide belt and shoulder straps of the tartan complete this costume.

Taffeta is extremely stylish and numerous models in advanced styles are shown. Silks having a pretty printed figure are very smart, combined with a plain contrasting material. The second figure shows a pleasing example of this style. The waist and tunic are of creamy printed silk, with collar and cuffs of bluish gray. The skirt is of bluish gray cotton duvetyne.

Cotton duvetyne, which is our adaptation of the material of the same name, which has been so popular all winter, is a welcome addition to the summer materials, especially for suits and separate skirts. The plic is not so deep as in the winter material, but it is very pliable, and drapes beautifully.

A few days ago I attended a review of summer millinery. The hats were displayed on a manikin, and it was noticeable that they were not as low on the head as formerly. The ears are really and truly exposed.

Some of these hats are small and follow closely the latest successful winter shapes—sailors are very good for the debutante; some are covered with moire taffeta, and trimmed with a Pierrot ostrich pompon. Another shape which would be becoming to the young woman who has been out a season or two, was an elongated tricorn of black straw. On one side was a large bow of light yellowish green ribbon. The other side was ornamented by a square jet button having a large oval pendant suspended from it.

A shape which will probably take well is called the "Breton." It is small, and has a rolling brim. It was trimmed with two large ostrich pompons.

Some ingenious young man started out on a quest for something to take the place of the feather quill, which has been used so much on our hats. He found an African porupine, extracted a quill, sandpapered, oiled and polished it until he had a naked quill that looked like the quill from a feather. The milliners have taken these as a foundation for ribbon feathers. One pleasing little hat had for its single ornament one of these quills surrounded by a deeply tucked piece of ribbon, with ends of the quill showing at top and bottom. It was attractive, chic and unusual. A mourning hat was shown with the upturned brim, covered with crepe, which had machine stitching all over it, about a quarter of an inch apart. This simulated Persian or baby lamb astonisingly well.

There are fads in dress which come and go. A woman, to be in the fashion must follow conservatively some of these ideas. Dame Fashion is so fond of springing upon us.

One of these trifles, which has the advantage of bringing a somewhat out of date dress up to the pink of fashion, is a large linen collar, with flaring points at the shoulders, stiffened to stand out and away from the coat or frock. This is very smart upon a woman to whom it is becoming, but let the other woman beware.

Corsage bouquets are still popular, but the very latest whim is a rose embroidered on the waist in the natural colors, just above the belt where a corsage bouquet would usually be worn.

I saw a very handsome white evening gown trimmed with raised beaded flowers and leaves. Trimming of this kind must be used with discretion for it might easily become bizarre.

Black velvet is being worn around the neck sometimes with a pretty jeweled ornament in front. If the waist has a frill around the neck, this band holds it up in the back.

It is the little things in dress which cause comment and interest. I once heard a famous dressmaker say, that in every toilette there should be one striking motif. Perhaps it is a chain of beads whose colors harmonize so beautifully with the gown. Possibly it is a novel pin, a bit of exquisite embroidery or lace or a knot of brilliant colored ribbon in exactly the right spot.

PAY ATTENTION TO FARM KITCHEN

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IS WATCHING THIS FEATURE OF RURAL LIFE

WOULD HELP MRS. FARMER

Present Conditions Not Satisfactory For Her and Many Extensive Changes are Planned

Washington, Feb. 3.—The farm house is pretty nearly the most important point about the farm, so far as the condition of the agriculturalist is concerned and of the farm house, the kitchen is the most important room. Department of agriculture experts so held in a narticle prepared for the United Press today. The importance to the farmer of having an "economical farm house" has been emphasized by the department's farm architect. He holds that the mental and physical fitness of the laborers both within the house and in the fields is vitally affected by the building that affords the family sheleer.

"The average American farm home," says the department, "has failed to share in the improvements that are every day being made in agricultural conditions and is a rebuke to our boasted civilization. Relatively the housewife of a century ago with her fireplace cooking and log house cabin, was better provided for than is the housewife today. The most important building on the farm is the home. The health, comfort and happiness are dependent upon its construction and equipment, and unless these matters are looked after, the sanitary dairy barn or the economically constructed buildings for stock are of little value. Happiness and contentment in the family are as essential to efficient service as are improved tools and outbuildings.

Economy in Labor.

"Although the housewife spends, in many cases, a lifetime in her workshop—the kitchen—and the family rooms, she is not as a rule, capable of planning a house in the highest degree serviceable and comfortable, without assistance. Her help, however, is essential to the farm architect as the result of his plans most vitally concern her. One of the most important details regarding the average American income farmhouse is that it must be inexpensive. The average net annual income of the farmer today, after deducting five per cent interest on his investment is less than $400. This does not mean that the house may not be attractive. They may, if intelligently planted, with the help of vines, shrubs and trees, become the prettiest spots in the landscape and more beautiful and inexpensive than the crowded city houses. The tenant house is growing in importance. The number of rented farms increased by more than 324,000 during the last decade. Today little more than half the farms in this country are operated by owners.

"The possible economy in household labor and the conservation of strength of the housewife are two important factors to be considered in the construction of the farmhouse. Pleasant and comfortable farm homes tend to hold families together; but cheerless, unattractive and unsanitary houses are what is driving girls and boys to the cities. Investigations of prisons, insane asylums and corrective institutions seem to prove that the sins which account for the existence of these institutions are often bred in inadequate and unpleasant farm homes. Therefore this social aspect of the problem is considerable.

"The office of the farm management bureau has now undertaken to investigate and solve the problem of making the farm home better. Already it has learned that certain features are overlooked in providing economical arrangements for the household, when they might just as easily be provided for. One of the department's specialists learned that a woman in Pennsylvania had broken down from overwork. She had been carrying coal from the kitchen to the barn for years. When the husband was asked if there was any reason why a coal bunker could not have been provided near the cookstove and filled directly from his wagon, he answered 'nobody had ever thought of it.'

Simplicity and Beauty.

"After economy in the construction of the building and in the housework has been attained, attention will be given to the development of beauty. Simplicity of line and good proportion are meant by the word 'beauty.' This simplicity is entirely in keeping with the general plan of economy, but not cheapness.

"Double strength glass may even be economical in the long run in a tenant house. A kitchen sink may be a better paying investment, although it excludes a bay window, or a fireplace that has been the pet idea of the farm housewife."

CURTIS INTERESTED IN TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Paris, Feb. 2.—Glenn Curtis, while here in the interests of his flying boat, told the United Press correspondent that he considered it extremely probable that the Atlantic would be crossed by an aeroplane in the course of the next summer. He knows of several who are preparing for the attempt.

Pressed for details Curtis admitted that he personally is interested in one attempt to be made and that he has been asked to supply the engine for the machine of another aviator who, he says, has splendid chance of success. He personally favors landing in the water en route and taking supplies from a boat, though the other person proposes to make a non-stop flight from shore to shore in 36 hours.

Secretaries of Unions Will Be Asked To Make Sworn Statements As To Totals

Acting Secretary John W. Thomas has sent out letters to the secretaries of the labor union locals which entered the contest for the poll tax prize money offered by the Chamber of Commerce asking them to provide him with a sworn statement giving the names of the resident members and also a statement of those who have paid poll tax.

If the contest is a close one the poll tax records in the city tax collector's office will be checked over to determine the winner. Four hundred dollars in prizes will be distributed.

Our Prescriptionists

are men who live, think, dream and believe in pharmacy. They have been reared in it. They came up from childhood in it and know the art as a sailor knows the sea. They know the curative agents of medical science as a mother knows her children. In the art of compounding they possess the ripe experience that can come only with the passing of years. A prescription that is not properly compounded from drugs of standard strength is worthless to you and may be harmful in that it is capable of producing a result entirely different from the one sought by the physician.

We ask for your prescription business because we know that we can handle it to your entire satisfaction giving you what you want when you want it.

FORMER WICHITAN NOW KATY GENERAL AUDITOR

O. H. Bower, Once Resident of Wichita Falls, Gets Appointment To Responsible Position

O. H. Bower, formerly auditor for the Wichita Valley and for about two years a resident of Wichita Falls, has been appointed general auditor of the Texas lines of the Katy. Circulars announcing his appointment were received here last night.

Mr. Bower succeeds F. C. Anderson who resigned from the service of the company several months ago. For several months Mr. Bower had been acting as auditor in the place of Mr. Anderson. Mr. Bowers came to the Wichita Valley here from the Frisco at Fort Worth and left here about two years ago to go with the Katy. He was well liked here and news of his promotion was very pleasing to his friends.

MOTHER'S COFFEE

You remember the cup of coffee your mother made way back yonder at the Homestead. In memory you still smell its delightful aroma, taste its rich mellow flavor and feel its exhilarating influence—a morning benediction.

Mother didn't have as good coffee as you get now, as coffee at that time was in the hands of semi savage tribes and was poorly cultivated and handled. Mother made it in an old tin coffee pot. BUT MOTHER DID HAVE FRESH ROASTED COFFEE. She roasted it herself in the oven—a day's supply at a time. It wasn't roasted in Boston, New York or Chicago. It didn't lay in dirty box cars and depots nor linger on the grocers' shelves for weeks and perhaps months before it reached your kitchen, so in spite of inferior coffee and inadequate apparatus mother made a dandy cup of coffee. You can make a better one if you buy your coffee of us for you will get the very best of fine old mild growths of coffee intelligently blended to get the best results in the cup and fresh roasted—in up to date roasting machinery.
